

IMPERFECTIONISTS As the documenting subject attempts an overall perfection, the minor parts constituting such perfection are not rendered perfectly such as this very notes or any other representation he creates. They are all instances of a moment in time and space of a certain perspective.

PERIPHERAL Due to the demanding concentration and attention, the documenting subject maintains a certain distance to the centers which allows him to expand on his project despite being anyway connected to it via a good electric connection.

FRUSTRATED The documenting subject gets frustrated of the slowness of the social system and tries not to affect his agility by conducting his own system, his project.

SMELLESS Despite getting involved with much organic matter like the trash he picks and scan, the documenting subject is not representing any smell onto the project which might however get manifested in the realization of his Virtual building in nature.

HARDWORKING All the leisures and last the documenting subjects allowed himself are actually also taken with the final objective of contributing to his project, like socializing or consuming other culture which are later additions to complement the initial parts which were exclusively about work like the photographic tracking of activities.

ASOCIAL Despite being very social when the occasion occurs, the documenting subject does not stick to the euphoria of any particular group, particularly the political ones, seen the mischief such social enterprises have caused against one another.

STRIKING Rather than sudden harmful strikes against the system, the documenting subject, with his autonomous enterprise conducts a subtle and continuous abstention from it.

SELF-IMPRISONED The documenting subject, both in his project and in his living, has somewhat devised his own prison like a Diogenes in a barrel to contemplate the truth of the sun, the pursuing of his project, lacking any sun in the Northern arcadia he has ended up, yet contemplating the inward via the blinding of the technical sun, unsuitable for the Southern shore he comes from.
